FOLLOW UP AFTER SURGERY

It is important to see your doctors in follow-up after you leave the hospital.

- You will receive a phone call from the surgical navigator 2 days and again in 2 weeks after you leave the hospital.
- You will see a member of the cardiology team in the second week after leaving the hospital. They will help manage your medications.
- You will see a member of the surgical team in the fourth week after leaving the hospital. This may be the only follow up you need with the surgical team. Once you have recovered from your operation, your surgeon will turn the long-term care of your heart over to your cardiologist.
